Meet Our Instructors

Meet Lindsey
Piano & Cello

Lindsey is in her last semester of PhD coursework in Musicology. She earned a masters degree in organ performance at ASU and specialized in Iberian baroque organs. She teaches Music History courses at Arizona State University and directs a handbell ensemble and play organ for the North Scottsdale United Methodist Church. Last year, Lindsey self-published a music journal called "My Music Journey" to help students track progress and success in a meaningful way. She also runs a weekend youth program teaching kids how to play together in contemporary worship band settings. During her (sparse) free time, she enjoys hiking with her cat, Aries.

Congratulations to Our February Student of the Month:

Oliver Ramsey!

Oliver is a piano student of Lindsey. He has been taking lessons at Prestige for 3 months and is an Apprentice on the Musical Ladder.

"Oliver is a virtual only student that has consistently gone above and beyond. He brought Fur Elise to our lesson, 3/4 of the way learned for "fun." He is motivated to learn larger works, like Chopin's Mazurka in A-flat major and Prelude in E minor. He is also a composer and we are learning proper notation for his music."

Teachers: Don't forget to make your student of the month nominations. Check your email for the nomination form!
